LATE-BREAKING RESEARCH
ABSTRACT SUBMISSION GUIDELINE

LATE-BREAKING RESEARCH ABSTRACT SUBMISSION

APHRs 2018 will allow authors to submit their Late-breaking Research for the scientific session. Late-breaking Research Abstracts describe the latest research advances which have not been published prior to the submission. The selection will be based on scientific quality and novelty of research. Abstracts should fully adhere to the policies for Late-breaking Research Abstracts Submission below as well as the guidelines applying to the regular abstracts submission.

KEY DATES

01-15 August 2018 Abstract Submission Open

31 August 2018 Notification of Acceptance

Late-breaking Research Abstract Submission Requirements

■ Online Submission:

Late-breaking Research Abstract for the APHRs 2018 must be submitted online via the official abstracts submission site, available through the website from 1st August 2018. E-mails and word processing files submitted outside the abstracts submission site will not be accepted.

■ Prior Publication:

The Scientific Program Committee only accepts original scientific material unpublished at the time of the abstracts submission deadline. Abstracts containing previously published information will be rejected.

■ Authorship Requirements:

Authors of submitted abstracts are not prohibited from submitting Late-breaking Research Abstract. The submitting author is the presenting author and listed as the first author. There is no limit neither to the number of Late-breaking Research Abstracts nor the number of co-authors on each abstract; however, to avoid presentation scheduling conflicts, an author may only appear as the Presenting Author on one (1) Late-breaking Research Abstract submission.

■ Submission Deadline:

Late-breaking Research Abstracts must be completed by 15 August 2018, {23:59 (CST+8)}. If an updated abstract is not submitted by that date of deadline, the abstracts will be automatically rejected. Extensions to the submission deadline will not be granted.

■ Abstracts Evaluation:

Late-breaking Research Abstracts will be evaluated by members of Scientific Program Committee or designated reviewers. After review, the abstracts will be either be accepted for oral presentation or poster presentation and included in the program, or will be rejected. Notifications of acceptance of the Late-breaking Research Abstracts will be sent to the primary author on 31 August 2018.
